

SURVEY REGARDING INCLUSION OF POST-GRADUATE APRN CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS IN 2020 ON-SITE EVALUATIONS

Official Name of Institution:

Name of Chief Nurse Administrator:

A post-graduate APRN certificate program is defined as either a post-master's or a post-doctoral certificate (not degree) program that is preparing students for an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN) role (i.e., nurse practitioner, clinical nurse specialist, nurse anesthetist, or nurse midwife).

1. This confirms that my institution's post-graduate APRN certificate program is to be included in the scheduled Fall 2020 on-site evaluation.  Yes  No
2. If you answered "No" to question #1, please provide an explanation (e.g., program closure, moved to another on-site evaluation date).

List Each Track (role and population focus) in the Post-Graduate APRN Certificate Program (e.g., Post-master's FNP certificate, Post-master's community health CNS certificate).	Total Number of Students Enrolled in Each Track since Fall 2018	Number of Students Expected to be Enrolled in Each Track in Fall 2020	Identify whether each track in the post-graduate APRN certificate program is also offered as a track in a graduate degree program (e.g., check "Yes" if there is an FNP certificate track and also an FNP track in the master's degree and/or DNP program).

Check here to verify that the institution's profile information in the CCNE Online Community is accurate, up to date, and identifies all roles/tracks in the post-graduate APRN certificate programs, if any.
